8 SYNOPSIS: Under existing law, in all cities and towns
9 having a population of less than 12,000 persons
10 according to the last census, the mayor presides 11 over the council, may vote on any question, and is 12 required to vote in the case of a tie. In all 13 cities or towns having a population of 12,000 or 14 more persons according to the last census, the 15 mayor does not sit with the council or vote in its 16 proceedings. If a federal census shows a change in 17 population to 12,000 or more persons or less than 18 12,000 persons, the change in the mayor's role in 19 city council proceedings changes after the next 20 municipal general election.

21 This bill would provide that if the 22 population of a city increases to 12,000 or more 23 persons after a federal census, the change in the 24 mayor's role in the city council proceedings may be 25 subject to a referendum of the voters of the city
26 after a public hearing and a petition of a certain 27 percentage of the registered voters of the city.
