Section 1. It is the intent of this Legislature to require public K-12 schools to ensure that certain textbooks and instructional materials are not used in reading instruction; to provide for related matters concerning practices, interventions, and curricula that are based on the science of reading; and to prohibit the use of curricula that employ the three-cueing system model of teaching students to read. It shall additionally be the intent of this body to establish criteria for core curricula, interventions, instructional materials, and supplemental materials for each educator preparation program.

(c) The board shall adopt rules pursuant to this act to establish criteria for any materials used to prepare teacher candidates to teach reading, including course textbooks, for each educator preparation program. The rules shall require instructional strategies that are scientifically researched and evidence-based reading instructional strategies that improve reading performance for all students, including explicit, systematic, and sequential approaches to teaching oral language, phonemic awareness, phonics, vocabulary, fluency, text comprehension, writing that includes encoding, and multisensory strategies.
