House Bill 299 as reported by the Committee on Judiciary provides: 1) that the Board of Pardons and Paroles update parole guidelines to provide weighted consideration for the age of the eligible inmate; 2) a 5-year reconsideration for parole for certain inmates upon denial of parole; 3) the board to provide an inmate over age 67 a detailed plan to improve chances for parole upon denial, failure to provide a plan would result in a new parole hearing within 90-days; 4) appellate relief for certain inmates with certain serious chronic health conditions upon denial of parole or medical parole; and 5) that the Board conduct a medical parole hearing within 90 days of an inmate becoming eligible for medical parolee. These provisions would increase the obligations of the Board by an undetermined amount dependent on the cost to comply with the provisions of this bill.

In addition, this bill could decrease the obligations of the Department of Correction by an undetermined amount annually, beginning in Fiscal Year 2025, dependent on the costs foregone for housing and care of medically-furloughed inmates.
