House Bill 266 as reported by the Committee on Education Policy would create the Restoring Educational Advancement of Completing High School (REACH) Act, which would codify and expand the current practice of the Alabama Community College System (ACCS), Adult Education Division, to offer a nontraditional high school diploma to students who have dropped out of high school and are at least 18 years old.

Additionally, this bill will increase the administrative obligations of ACCS, the State Board of Education, and the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency to adopt rules pursuant to the provisions of this bill.
