AR8AGQS-1

By Senators Stutts, Butler

RFD: Banking and Insurance

First Read: 13-Jan-26

SYNOPSIS:

The law does not currently regulate how insurers that cover dental care spend the premiums received from individuals and groups that contract for dental care payment or reimbursement.

This bill would require dental insurers to spend a specified percentage of the premiums they receive on customer claims. Dental insurers that fail to spend at least the specified percentage of premiums on claims would be required to refund the excess premiums retained to policyholders.

This bill would further require dental insurers to report certain income and expense information to the Commissioner of Insurance periodically and to make the report available to the public.

A BILL

TO BE ENTITLED

AN ACT

Relating to dental insurance; to establish a dental loss ratio as a percentage of premiums collected by an insurer; to require reporting of the insurer's claims expenses and income information for compliance with the dental loss ratio; to require an insurer to give a rebate to enrollees if payments on claims are below the dental loss ratio; to provide for disclosure of insurer financial information; and to amend Sections 10A-20-6.16 and 27-21A-23, Code of Alabama 1975, to make conforming changes.

(3)a. The aggregated claims paid by the insurer for dental care services shall be calculated by:

1. Adding the amount paid or reimbursed on claims for dental care services; then

b. The provisions of Article 1 of Chapter 2 of Title 27, Code of Alabama 1975, including confidentiality of information, remedies, and procedures available to both the commissioner and the insurer, shall govern an examination conducted pursuant to paragraph a.

(d)(1) If the report required by subsection (c), as submitted by the insurer or as adjusted by the commissioner upon an examination as provided in that subsection shows that the dental loss ratio for the reporting period is less than the percentage that applies under subdivision (b)(1) for individual or group dental plans, the insurer shall refund the excess premium collected to the covered individuals or groups as a rebate.

(2) The total amount of the rebate shall equal the amount by which the dental loss ratio authorized by subdivision (b)(1) exceeds the insurer's reported dental loss ratio, multiplied by the amount of all premiums collected by the insurer as calculated under paragraph (b)(3)b.

(3) Within 60 days of the calculation of the rebate, the insurer shall notify all individuals and groups that were covered under the applicable reporting period that they qualify for the refund, which may be paid directly to the
